

I think it is wrong to disguise campaign propaganda as news. We need the FCC to take a strong stance on keeping our media an honest place where we can find out real information instead of a government propaganda machine.